

Phundex - OneNDA Licensing Agreement

At Phundex, we believe in making things as simple as possible. We've spent more time that we can count over the years negotiating non-disclosure agreements. So when we heard about OneNDA, and saw it's elegant simplicity, we knew we had to adopt it. More importantly, we decided to introduce it to our clients, and to make it available on the Phundex Platform Phundex happy to announce that we have entered into a technical licensing agreement to allow oneNDA to be used by all customers on the Phundex platform.

The industry adoption of OneNDA aligns with the Phundex desire to streamline and simplify transactions across the investment lifecycle. Our proprietary Pathway Templates provide best practice process and transaction management with full e-signature integration. Phundex has adopted oneNDA as it's NDA solution of choice, so the next logical step was to provide it on the Phundex Platform for our clients. Phundex users can therefore manage their NDA requirements, including e-signature capability, for transaction and process management via one interface.

«We are delighted to be working with OneNDA to bring this new capability to the Phundex platform. We have first-hand experience in the time spent reviewing and approving bespoke NDA agreements, and see OneNDA as a ground-breaking way of improving that process, and more importantly the time spent on NDA's.»

About Phundex

Phundex is an exciting new platform creating an end-to-end digital pathway that supports collaboration between start-ups, innovation hubs, family offices, and investors, across the investment lifecycle.

Phundex – process, transaction and data management – re-imagined. Our centralised hub makes it easier to do real-time process and transaction management across all stakeholders. Think of Phundex as a combination of Trello, document management and Data room and a document signing facility, all on one platform. We've worked in the industry for years, so we designed Phundex to streamline and standardise processes, improve go-to-market time and provide better transparency and disclosure. Whether you are managing processes or transactions, our proprietary Pathway Templates give you streamlined best practice starting points, but are fully configurable to make them bespoke to your organisation.
