About Phundex

Phundex is an exciting new platform creating an end-to-end digital pathway that supports collaboration between start-ups, innovation hubs, family offices, and investors, across the investment lifecycle.

Phundex – process, transaction and data management – re-imagined. Our centralised hub makes it easier to do real-time process and transaction management across all stakeholders. Think of Phundex as a combination of Trello, document management and Data room and a document signing facility, all on one platform. We've worked in the industry for years, so we designed Phundex to streamline and standardise processes, improve go-to-market time and provide better transparency and disclosure. Whether you are managing processes or transactions, our proprietary Pathway Templates give you streamlined best practice starting points, but are fully configurable to make them bespoke to your organisation.
